Office of the Insurance Commissioner, Capitol, Hartford, March 25, 1891.

Sir: The Commissioner has the honor to submit herewith, as by law required, Part II of his Report, being the twenty-sixth Annual Report of this Department.

O. R. Tyler

To the Governor.

REPORT—PART II.

In this part of the Report are exhibited the condition and affairs of all companies authorized to transact in this State the business of life or accident insurance. Since the last annual report was presented, the following corporations have been admitted to do business in Connecticut :

DATE OF LICENSE.	NAME AND LOCATION OF COMPANY.	CAPITAL.	CLASS OF INSURANCE.
Aug. 6,....	Am. Employers' Liability Ins. Co., Jersey City, N. J.,.	$150,000	Accident.
Aug. 15, ...	Total Abstinence Life Ass'n, Chicago, Ill.,.....	Assessment.	Life.
Sept. 2,....	Odd Fellows' Fraternal Accid't Ass'n, Westfield, Mass.	Assessment.	Accident.
Sept. 2,....	Preferred Mutual Accident Ass'n, New York City,....	Assessment.	Accident.

The following named, having omitted to file the annual statements required by law, have withdrawn, and are no longer authorized to operate here :

DATE OF WITHDRAWAL.	NAME AND LOCATION.	CAPITAL.	CLASS OF INSURANCE.
1891.
February,...	Imperial Life Insurance Co., Detroit, Mich.,... ..	$118,000	Life.
February,...	New England Relief Association, Boston, Mass.,.....	Assessment.	Life.
February,...	Vermont Life Insurance Co., Burlington, Vt.,.....	100,000	Life.

The whole number of life and accident companies now authorized is fifty-four, and their condition on December 31, 1890, and transactions during that year are fully set forth in this second volume. Statistical tables are appended, exhibiting in form for ready reference and comparison the affairs of all the offices engaged in life assurance. These offices are grouped in two distinct classes, according as they operate upon the uniform-premium or the assessment plan.

LIFE OFFICES — UNIFORM-PREMIUM PLAN.

There are now here twenty-eight companies carrying on the business of life assurance under the old system requiring the payment in advance of a fixed, or definite premium, in consideration of which a fixed, or definite, minimum benefit is guaranteed. Seven of these are Connecticut companies, and twenty-one belong in other States of the Union. Two companies — the Imperial of Detroit, and the Vermont of Burlington — having withdrawn this year, in the condensed tabulations immediately following, only the figures relating to the twenty-eight identical offices reporting here in both years are set down:

ASSETS — 1889 AND 1890 — TABLE 1.

December.	1889.	1890.	Increase.
7 Companies of this State, . . .	$115,334,786	$118,036,777	$2,701,991
21 Companies of other States, . .	554,515,242	606,245,005	51,729,763
28 Companies,	$669,850,028	$724,281,782	$54,431,754

The assets have increased over fifty-four millions during the year, and now amount to the large sum of seven hundred and twenty-four million dollars. The year's growth exceeds eight per cent. In each of the two preceding years there was a like rate of increase. Should this rate be maintained hereafter, these companies will possess assets to the amount of one thousand millions in the year 1895, and one thousand five hundred millions in 1900. In respect to the magnitude either of resources or of business transacted, these American companies far surpass those of any other country, whether taken singly or by an average. The character of the assets held by each and all of the companies can be seen by a glance at Table 1. And Table 2 will show the proportion which each kind bears to the whole.

LIABILITIES, EXCEPT CAPITAL—1889 AND 1890—TABLE 3.

December 31.	1889.	1890.	Increase.
7 Compa's of this State,.	$100,811,773	$103,109,789	$2,298,016
21 Comp's of other States,	485,289,608	535,432,965	50,143,357
28 Companies,.....	$586,101,381	$638,542,754	$52,441,373

The growth of liabilities was over fifty-two millions, or within two millions of the assets' growth. The absolute liabilities, however, have increased but about half a million dollars, the remainder of the $52,441,373 representing the growth of the contingent liability designated the reserve, or reinsurance fund.

The reserve proper is computed at $630,724,406, a rise over the preceding year of $51,912,941. And it appears that all but two and one-half millions of the gain in assets went to supply the requirements of this fund. In Table 3, under the head of "all other claims," however, the greater portion of the total amount, viz., $2,587,790, consists of extra or special reserve. So that, out of the entire liability of $638,542,754, the sum of $6,500,000 comprises the whole absolute indebtedness. And of this sum, $3,600,000 will cover all unsettled endowment and loss claims. Inasmuch as the offices pay weekly on such claims more than a million dollars, it follows that on an average all are paid within about three weeks after due notification.

SURPLUS, INCLUDING CAPITAL—1889 AND 1890.

December 31.	1889.	1890.	Increase.
7 Companies of this State,....	$14,523,013	$14,926,988	$403,975
21 Companies of other States,..	69,225,634	70,812,040	1,586,406
28 Companies,	$83,748,647	$85,739,028	$1,990,381

Counting the capital as surplus, so far as policy-holders are concerned, the surplus now stands at $85,739,028, which is a gain of $1,990,381 during the year. In 1889 the gain was over $7,000,000, notwithstanding a reduction in the capital and surplus of a Connecticut company of nearly $800,000. The only change in capital from last year arises from the withdrawal of the Imperial and Vermont companies, whose united capitals amounted to $218,000.

The ratio of surplus (including capital) to the reserve is thirteen and six-tenths per cent., whereas last year it was fourteen and one-half per cent. To express it differently, last year the offices combined possessed eleven hundred and forty-five dollars for every thousand dollars of contingent liability, and this year they have but eleven hundred and thirty-six, or nine dollars in a thousand less. The proportion of surplus to reserve has not been maintained. This remark, however, does not apply to the Connecticut offices, their proportion of surplus to reserve remaining precisely the same as before, viz., fourteen and seven-tenths per cent. The percentage of the other offices is thirteen and four-tenths.

SURPLUS BEYOND CAPITAL—1889 AND 1890.

December 31.	1888.	1889.	Increase.
7 Comp's of this State,...	$12,771,963	$13,175,938	$403,975
21 Comp's of other States,	65,760,134	67,346,540	1,586,406
28 Companies,	$78,532,097	$80,522,478	$1,990,381

In the foregoing, the capital ($600,000) of the Travelers Company is not deducted from the surplus, because the assets representing that investment belong to the accident department. The amount of stock capital deducted is $5,216,550, of which the portion pertaining to Connecticut companies is $1,751,050, or one-third of the whole.

In these latter years, when the accumulation of unemployed capital has cut down the rate of interest to a low figure, and when, by reason of the decreasing opportunities for its profitable employment in legitimate and safe investment, the trend is toward a still lower figure, and the necessity for a correspondingly larger reserve is becoming a threatening question, it is not enough that the surplus increase should keep even pace with the amount of reserve increase. The ratio of surplus to reserve should be maintained, and not suffered to fall off by means of extravagant bids for business, either in the form of agents' commissions or policy-holders' dividends. Otherwise, when the time comes, as it surely will, for requiring a higher reserve, some of the companies will be found wanting.

In this connection another matter may be mentioned. Recently, some very prominent companies have provided in their contracts for dividends of profits at the end of five, ten, fifteen, or twenty years. During the interval of dividend deferment, there ought to be a material growth in the ratio of surplus to reserve. And in individual instances this is found to be the case. The result should be more general. As shown above, taking the offices together, the ratio has actually diminished.

The apparent falling off of interest in the foreign companies arises mainly from the sale by a single office, in 1889, of a large amount of securities, whereby several million dollars more than the ledger value was realized; and this sum went to the credit of the interest account of that year. The interest earned in 1890 was, in fact, two or three millions more than that properly belonging to the preceding year, the gain being about ten per cent. The gain in premium receipts was nearly $16,000,000, or twelve and four-tenths per cent.

OUTGO—1889 AND 1890—TABLES 5, 6, AND 7.

The total outgo was $122,757,844, more than two-thirds of which went to policy-holders, and less than one-third for the payment of expenses and stockholders' dividends. In the case of the Connecticut offices, eighty-one per cent. of the outgo went to policy-holders.

The total income was $181,022,215, and the total outgo $122,757,844, the excess of income being $58,264,371. The increase in assets was $3,832,617 less than this excess of income, which indicates a marking-down of the value of the investments to this extent. This is a considerable sum to look at by itself, but when compared with the assets, dwindles to one-half of one per cent.

The annuity payments for the year were $1,749,292; in 1889, $1,532,793; in 1888, $1,327,270.

NET PROFITS—1889 AND 1890.

December 31.	1889.		1890.

7 Connecticut,.....	$2,100,247	$110,151	$2,098,901	$403,975
21 Others,.....	11,500,706	6,840,552	11,862,682	1,586,406
Aggregates,.....	$13,600,953	$6,950,703	$13,961,583	$1,990,381

The sum of the dividends paid and the surplus gains indicates the year's profits, which appear to have been, in round numbers, over $20,500,000 in 1889, and about $16,000,000 in 1890. If to this latter sum there be added the depreciation in the value of the assets, $3,832,617, which had to be made good out of the surplus, the gross profit will appear to be nearly $20,000,000. And if the depreciation of assets in the preceding year, $1,676,000, be added to the net profits, the gross profit of that year will appear to have exceeded $22,000,000.

It would not be safe, however, to regard what appears to be the net profit of any year (e. g., the $16,000,000 of 1890) as realized, or even as wholly earned. Particularly, that portion of it growing out of a subnormal mortality-rate must be regarded as a deferred obligation, the profit upon which is the use of the money, rather than as a realized saving or gain,—since all must die soon or late, and what is not paid in one year, must be in some other. This remark would apply with more force if all policies were held to maturity. But since, in practice, this is not the case, and large numbers of policies are dropped before becoming due, it is probably safe to count as profit a considerably larger portion of the mortality-gain than the interest on the assurances so deferred.

The whole amount insured is $72,320,941, an increase in a year of nine per cent. The average amount of each policy is $600. The amount paid to claimants is one-fifth greater than in the previous year. The premiums collected in 1890 were eight per cent. more.

Aggregates,	$870,189,934	$974,641,346	$104,451,412

The above exhibits the entire amount of new policies issued in the two years, and shows the issue of 1890 to exceed that of 1889 by $104,451,412. It exceeds the amount written in 1888 by more than $260,000,000.

Many policies are returned "not taken," and many issued in exchange for old policies are classed in some of the offices as new business. For these reasons, a better view can be had of the growth of the business by comparing the amount in force at the close of two successive years.

RISKS OUTSTANDING—1889 AND 1890—TABLE 10.

The gain over the preceding year in amount at risk was about four hundred and twenty-four millions. From the tabulations of new business it appears that the amount of new policies written was nine hundred and seventy-five millions. And it follows that assurances to the amount of five hundred and fifty-one millions were either not accepted, or terminated by maturity, expiry, surrender, lapse, or change. The net result is an increase of thirteen per cent. in the amount assured, which now reaches the large sum of $3,676,280,897.

Table 11 shows the various modes in which policies ceased during the last year. Table 12 gives the number and amount of death claims in 1888, 1889, and 1890. Table 13 shows the amount of premium notes held, and the year's changes therein. Table 14 shows the value of all the policies (including reversionary additions) in force. And Table 15 gives the average amount and value of such policies for four years past.

Tables 16 and 17 relate to interest received from invested funds. Net premiums being computed upon the theory that they accumulate at the rate of four per cent. annually, it is essential to the fulfilment of the contracts that this rate be realized upon an amount of assets equal to the reserve and a year's net premiums combined. Table 17 is designed to ascertain this, though it is only a rude approximation. Table 16 exhibits the rate per cent. earned on the mean amount of assets held, in each of the last ten years; whilst the other deals with the rate realized upon the amount of the reserve and the net premiums. The net premiums are estimated by discounting twenty per cent. from the office premiums; excepting that in the case of offices engaged in industrial insurance, fifty per cent. is discounted. It will be seen upon examination that the rate realized by all the offices combined was five and three-tenths per cent., and that only one of them received less than four per cent. And this one, from its plan of insurance, may not be amenable to the same rule. The rate of interest realized in the year before on the reserve and premiums was a quarter of one per cent. less than in 1890.

These gains are all larger than were made by twenty-nine offices in the year before. The last three years have developed a wonderful growth in the business.

LIFE ASSOCIATIONS — ASSESSMENT PLAN.

There are now sixteen companies lawfully transacting in this State life assurance upon the assessment plan. Some of them collect a fixed premium in advance, and have not as yet levied an assessment, but the contracts of all such provide for levying assessments whenever the funds in hand are insufficient to meet just claims. Five of these associations are domestic, and twelve are from other States.

Tables I, II, and III, to be found in the latter part of this volume, exhibit the salient points connected with the affairs and condition of these corporations, and a condensed grouping of these figures, according to locality, here follows:

Though these are not the identical sixteen companies operating here last year, one having dropped out and another dropped in, still the aggregate figures are not materially modified by the change, and the results can very properly be compared. The entire amount at risk has increased during the year thirty-six and one-half millions, or six per cent., and now stands at $639,389,226. If to this sum be added the amount insured by the twenty-eight old-line companies, $3,676,280,897, the aggregate is $4,315,670,123. Add to this the amount of insurance against accidental death, $1,098,965,500, and the grand total becomes $5,414,635,623.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE.

The number of companies engaged in this branch of business in this State is twelve, three having been admitted in 1890. The schedule following exhibits the main features of the business done by these corporations, of which the first-named five are joint-stock, and the others assessment companies.

THE FOREIGN BUSINESS OF AMERICAN COMPANIES.

The enterprise of four or five American companies in the quest of business has led them quite far afield, and not only into competition with European companies on their own ground, but into regions in both hemispheres which, within no remote period, have not been regarded as favorable for life underwriting on a free scale. No doubt the spread of civilization favorably affects the death rate everywhere, as it has done in this country and in England. It may mitigate, but cannot overcome, the effect of widely different climatic and other conditions, which give to each country something distinctive in its death rate. It will be extremely interesting to watch the experiment now being tried by these companies on a very considerable scale.

It may be well to state, in general terms, the magnitude and character of that experiment, which, at present, is confined to five New York companies, the Equitable, the Germania, the Mutual, the New York, and the Mutual Reserve Fund. The Germania confines its foreign business to Mexico and Europe. The others take a wider range. The figures which follow are from the report of January 1, 1890, those for 1891 not having been received by this department at this writing.

At that date the Equitable had at risk $192,866,753, distributed over Mexico, the West Indies, Central America, South America, Australasia, various islands, Europe, Asia, and Africa.

The Mutual had at risk $21,385,092 in Mexico, South America, the West Indies, Europe, Australia, and the Sandwich Islands. It is understood, though this department is, as yet, without the official information, that this company is extending the range of its foreign business to substantially the same fields as the Equitable already occupies.

The New York had at risk $148,028,361 in Mexico, Central America, South America, the West Indies, Australasia, Europe, Asia, and Africa.

The Mutual Reserve Fund had at risk in Europe and other foreign countries $10,467,025.

The five companies had at risk in foreign countries an aggregate of $394,760,798, which sum has doubtless been materially increased during the year 1890.

The principal problems involved in this great experiment are those which relate to the mortality to be expected, and the adequacy of the extra resources provided to meet it, and the methods pursued with them ; the selection of risks ; the effective control of a business done at great distances from the home offices ; foreign governmental interference and control ; and the financial status of the funds derived from that class of business, and especially applicable to its protection.

The death rate of England, and of most parts of Europe, is well known from sufficient and scientific observation. The death rate of most of the other countries occupied is not so well known, and in several of them there are probably not sufficient data in an accessible and digested form for an accurate local mortality table. In many of the sections where this foreign business is done, the mortality is considerably higher than in the United States. It is understood that an extra premium is charged to meet it. The proper treatment of this business would require that both premiums and reserves should be computed for each country upon a mortality table, at least, safely representing the local death rate. But while a varying extra premium is probably charged in many countries, the legal reserve on the business is computed by the same mortality table as that used for business here at home ; and so far as this department has any knowledge, these companies carry no special or additional reserve on account of it ; so that, if the assumption is correct on which the extra premium is based, the reserve is almost inevitably insufficient ; and that part of the extra premium which should go into a larger reserve is not treated as a liability, but as surplus. This is a fault of method of serious importance, and should be thoroughly remedied. Meantime the adequacy of the extra premiums charged, even with a corresponding reserve, must await the test of many years' experience.

The careful and effective selection of risks, of vital importance under the most favorable circumstances, becomes a most critical matter when the general death rate is in any degree uncertain. The question whether risks can and will be as carefully selected in a foreign and remote country, beyond the direct supervision and inspection of the home office, the decision resting entirely with its foreign staff, acting under general instructions, is a serious one, and, to say the least, has no presumption in its favor.

Necessarily, the entire conduct of the business in every department, agency, medical, claims, and financial, must be conducted upon foreign soil, by foreign representatives, clothed with plenary power in every particular case. This fact adds to the difficulties and to the expense of conducting such a business to no inconsiderable degree. A matter in some aspects quite as important as any yet mentioned, is the financial side of a foreign business. Several foreign governments have adopted the principle, which seems likely to become universal, of requiring American companies to place under government control, in each nationality where business is done, an amount of money or securities equal to the entire reserve on the business done in that nationality. Canada, for example, requires each American life company writing in the Dominion, to deposit with government in United States bonds or Dominion securities, the full reserve on their Canadian business, which is, aside from surplus, all the assets growing out of the business, and is held for its exclusive protection. When a company is called upon to scatter its assets among many and remote countries, to part with their control, if not with their legal title, to invest them in foreign securities of a prescribed class, and at possibly very moderate interest, through foreign representatives, and leave them subject to the contingencies of foreign and, possibly, hostile legislation, prompted by jealousy or suspicion, exposed to the chances of war, whether with this country or with others, while the foreign policy-holders are not confined in prosecuting their claims to the foreign assets, but can press them directly upon the company at its home, the situation is certainly suggestive of possible difficulties of no small moment, and difficulties which would not tend to diminish as the business increases in magnitude. These matters seem to assume an added importance to the home policy-holders of the companies writing foreign business, from the fact that they do business almost entirely upon the mutual plan ; so that an adverse experience, even should it not go so far as to affect the question of solvency, might seriously encroach upon the surplus, and, by reducing dividends, raise the cost of their policies. And by the extent to which the experiment is being pushed by the enterprise of these companies, all these questions are being brought into view on such a scale as to make it proper that the public should be fully advised of their existence and character.

Since writing the foregoing, the reports for the year ending December 31, 1890, have been received. They embrace the five companies transacting business in foreign countries. The Germania is included this year, the information failing to reach this office in time for publication last year.

The total number of policies in force, amount of insurance, and premiums received in the year ending December 31, 1890, by the five companies in such foreign countries, were as follows :

Number of policies in force,	126,483
Insurance in force,	$461,977,892
Premiums received for the year,	$19,229,327
A gain in number of policies in force during the year of	18,651

In insurance in force,	$67,217,095
In premiums received for the year, . . .	$2,581,638

As indicated, the business in foreign countries has been materially increased during the year.

A detailed statement of the transactions may be found in the abstracts of the annual statements in their appropriate places in this volume.

ASSESSMENT INSURANCE.

The act which permits the transaction of assessment insurance business in this state by corporations organized under authority of other states, was passed by the legislature of 1885. Section 15 of the Act provides: "Nothing in this chapter contained shall be construed to apply to any secret or fraternal society, nor to any association organized solely for benevolent and charitable purposes, where members are employed by one, or by one or more similar corporations or institutions, or where membership is confined to one trade, art, or profession."

Under the provisions of this section a large number of associations and societies, organized under authority of laws of other states, claim immunity from state supervision on the ground that they are fraternal or secret societies. The state is flooded with companies and societies of this character. Their literature is sown broadcast over the state. In their eagerness to outbid each other for business, they make the most extravagant promises; offers of free membership, and cash donations in addition, are made to those who will aid in the organization of lodges or societies.

Many of these organizations have made endowment insurance prominent among their projects of promising the impossible. However worthless the promise, and certain the utter inability of the association to fulfil its pledge, it finds sufficient patronage at the hands of an unsuspecting public to render its operations profitable, and to pay satisfactory salaries to its promoters.

A promise to pay $1,000 in five or seven years, on a premium of $300 paid in, is one of the many schemes presented to the public for acquiring immediate wealth with the least possible outlay of capital. To prove such an absurd proposition, and their ability to meet contracts at maturity, the managers of these speculative endowment societies take the assets of an old line insurance company, and the amount of insurance in force, and dividing the latter by the former sum, find that the amount the company has agreed to pay in relation to their assets is in the ratio of at least five to one. On such a misleading assumption they proceed to draw conclusions to sustain their worthless promises.

Such a proposition ought only to be stated to an ordinary thinking person to show how entirely untrustworthy it is. The amount of insurance in force in a level premium company has no relation whatever to their immediate assets; it merely represents the sum to be paid on the maturity of all policies. The sum necessary to meet such contracts has been ascertained after a careful experience of a long term of years. It in no way depends on lapsing of policies, as some of our modern mathematicans strive to make a confiding public believe. All well-known rules of mathematics are set aside, the power to create a new multiplication table is only wanting to demonstrate beyond question the ability to pay a very large sum for a very small contribution. The Commissioner believes that legislation should be had to prevent the further encroachments of associations and societies of this character within the limits of the State.

The laws of New York require all insurance companies to report to its insurance department, and remain under its supervision while transacting business within the State. A due regard for the interest of such of our citizens as are induced to accept insurance in associations or societies of this character requires a similar statute in Connecticut.

There might be sufficient reasons for an exception to a law requiring all associations and societies dispensing aid to its members from being placed under the supervision of the State. Such fraternities as the Masonic and Odd Fellows, and probably others, where the primary object is not, and never was intended to be, for insurance purposes, should be the only exception.

The Commissioner is in constant receipt of letters from different sections asking for information in relation to the standing and financial condition of many of these associations. The writers assume that the State has undertaken to regulate the transaction of all insurance business within its domain, and through a department created for that purpose, is in possession of a statement showing the exact condition and financial standing of every association and society writing a policy of insurance. To such communications no satisfactory reply can be made. It is a confession that only a partial supervision is exercised over the insurance companies or associations transacting business here. The subject should receive, as it deserves, the thoughtful and careful consideration of the law-making power, and such remedial legislation should be had as will thoroughly exterminate the worthless endowment associations that infest the State, and place such other societies and associations as are deemed worthy of consideration under the supervising care of the government.

PHOENIX MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

This company, since its reorganization under its amended charter, has made a fair start towards recovery of a position entitling it to public confidence, and a fair patronage at the hands of the insuring public. The policy that has for years prevailed of permitting its business to decline, has been reversed, and for the first time in many years the company shows a gain in amount of insurance at risk over the previous year. While the amount gained is not startling in its magnitude, yet it demonstrates the policy that is intended to be pursued by the new management. In premiums on new business a substantial gain has been made, doubling the amount received from this source in the year ending December 31, 1889. In gross assets and surplus, there has also been a moderate gain. The Commissioner is gratified to note such evidence of returning prosperity as is presented by the report of the company for the year ending December 31, 1890. While the company is substantially in the hands of its policyholders, there still remain a few shares of outstanding stock held by the late president which have not been surrendered under the provisions of the amended charter. By order of the board of directors a suit has been commenced against Aaron C. Goodman, late president of the company, to recover the excessive dividends received by him between June, 1882, and February, 1889. It will be remembered that prior to the publication of the last report the other resident directors, upon a report of a committee of their own numbers charged with the investigation of the question of past dividends, had paid over to the company $64.90 on each share of stock on which they had received these dividends.

It is cause for congratulation that the attempted sale of a controlling interest of the stock of the company to J. J. Macfarlane of Philadelphia, was not consummated. The recent history of the plundered assets of the American Life Insurance Company, and other trust funds which Macfarlane was managing, and of his subsequent failure to appear in court and answer to a grand juror indictment, plainly indicates that, had the control of the Phoenix company passed into his hands, it would have been only a question of time, and that probably quite brief, before the history of the Charter Oak and the Continental companies would have been repeated. Its ten millions of assets, the trust funds of widows and orphans, would have disappeared like the morning dew before a mid-summer sun. Fortunately, this calamity was averted by the prompt action of the directors representing the minority stockholders, in procuring the passage of an amendment to their charter.

The history of that legislation, and the subsequent action of the policy-holders in purchasing the stock under the authority given, were set forth in full in the last report. That the good name of the State was saved from humiliation and disgrace, and the policy-holders from utter annihilation of their assets, is cause for thankfulness by all concerned.

ÆTNA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

Section 2865 of the General Statutes of Connecticut reads as follows:

“Any company chartered by and now doing business in this state, and empowered to make contracts contingent upon life, is hereby authorized to issue policies or certificates insuring or protecting persons against loss of life or personal injury resulting from any cause, which policies or certificates shall state on their face the agreement with the persons receiving the same, and when executed in accordance with the charter and by-laws of said company, shall be binding upon the same.”

The Ætna Life insurance company decided, January 1, 1891, to avail itself of the provisions authorizing it to issue policies protecting persons against loss of life or personal injury resulting from accident, and that branch of its business is in successful operation.

This department will be kept distinct and separate from its life business, and, considering the Ætna's financial standing and favorable reputation, it is likely to inaugurate a competition in the accident business which has not hitherto existed.

CHARTER OAK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

In the case of the receivership of the Charter Oak Life insurance company, material progress has been made towards a settlement.

The committee appointed by the court to hear and decide upon claims, completed their work and filed their report on the 12th day of December, 1890. By such report there is allowed to claimants, under policy contracts, $3,031,617.46 ; other claimants, $13,021.02 ; total amount of claims allowed, $3,044,638.48.

It was the intention of the receivers, as soon as the report of the committee was accepted by the court, to ask for an order to pay a dividend. By order of the court, two months were allowed to file remonstrances on the report of the committee. By virtue of that order, remonstrances to its acceptance have been filed by a large number of policyholders whose claims were disallowed in whole or in part, in consequence of which action, payment of a dividend will necessarily be delayed until the legal questions involved shall be determined by the court. The responsibility for the delay in the payment of a dividend does not rest with the receivers, and should be so understood by the claimants. The above explanation of the condition of the receivership is intended as an answer to the many communications received at this office on the subject.

CONTINENTAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

I am informed by the receivers that the affairs of the Continental Life Insurance company are making progress toward final settlement. A number of pieces of real estate, in which the company had an interest, remain unsold, and there are a few lawsuits remaining of the complicated litigation in which the company was involved when the receivers took possession.

A large portion of the assets consists of a majority of the capital stock of the Utica Cement Manufacturing Company. The receivers were obliged to practically take charge of the management of the company, and look after its extensive business, and they have continued to do so since their appointment.

The receivers state that the business so conducted has been fairly successful, and has increased the market value of the stock held by them. At the date of the insolvency of the Continental, a considerable part of the assets had been hypothecated to banks and individuals as security for advances of cash, and for the payment of losses. The receivers, believing it to be for the best interest of all claimants, mainly applied the income from the Utica Cement Company to the adjustment of these secured claims, and the release of the cement stock to the estate. More difficulty has been experienced in finding a purchaser for so large a property than if the funds of the company had been invested in smaller amounts and in a greater variety of securities. The receivers are making efforts to dispose of this property, and are hopeful of doing so at an early day, and at fair prices. In the meantime the claims presented against the estate are undergoing examination by the committee appointed for that purpose, who have nearly completed their labors, and will soon make their report to the court.

QUADRENNIAL EXAMINATION OF LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES.

Since the publication of the last report, the Commissioner has concluded an examination of the Travelers Insurance Company. The result made public at the close of the examination may be found in this report. A large part of the real estate owned, together with such mortgage properties as showed any indications of weakness, as collateral security to the loan thereon, was personally visited by the Commissioner, and, with the assistance of competent local residents, appraisals were made.

The properties to a large extent are located in the Western States. The irrigating canals are located in different sections of Colorado.

The expenses attending the examination made without the State, as in the case of the examinations that have preceded, were paid by the company. The Commissioner again directs attention to an apparent defect in our statutes. They do not clearly give the right to charge domestic companies the expense of examinations made without the State. If the Commissioner is expected to make such an examination as the law renders it mandatory upon him to do, the legislature should provide by appropriation a sufficient sum to meet the necessary expense. The State imposes a tax on insurance corporations organized under its laws. The corporations are further subjected to fees and taxes in the several States in which they transact business. They should be relieved from the expense of the examination which the State properly directs should be made at least once in four years.

TRAVELERS INSURANCE COMPANY.

INSURANCE DEPARTMENT,)
HARTFORD, CONN., July 11, 1890. }

In accordance with the requirements of Section 2857 of the General Laws of Connecticut, making it the duty of the Insurance Commissioner once in every four years to examine the financial condition of each life insurance company incorporated by this State, and to ascertain whether it has complied with the provisions of the law, the said Commissioner instituted an inquiry into the affairs of the Travelers insurance company, at its home office in this city, on the 22d day of April, 1890. A summary of the results of said inquiry, which has just been completed, is contained in this report.

The Commissioner was assisted in this investigation by William D. Whiting of New York. H. E. Taintor of Hartford made search of the sufficiency of the deeds and papers relating to real estate, and the Commissioner, in company with Isaac W. Brooks, visited and caused to be appraised most of the real estate and all the canal property in which this company is interested, together with such of the mortgaged property as was unduly behind in interest, or otherwise seemed to make a reappraisement desirable. The well-known reputation and experience of these gentlemen is a guarantee of intelligent and thorough work.

Of which surplus $600,000 represents the capital stock of the company.

REAL ESTATE.

The company's real estate was acquired almost exclusively by foreclosure since the depression of 1874, and lies mainly in Western States, one-half on either side of the Mississippi. It is mostly unproductive, yielding as a whole about two per cent. on cost. The result of its reappraisalment by this department was a shrinkage from present cost as it stands upon the company's books of $130,846.50. It is but fair to add, however, that the company, in making its report for December 31st last to this and other departments, and also in its printed matter for public distribution, deducts from the cost of this real estate $419,835.38, thereby reducing it to the amount of the original loans from whence it was derived. Since 1877, an amount nearly equal to its present holdings has been sold for sums aggregating something more than its cost, but if a charge be made for the deficiency in income while the same was held below average interest, the real estate account shows a considerable loss. All except $57,400 of the real estate lying in Canada and Florida was appraised by the department, and as to this, satisfactory evidence of its value was obtained from other sources. On the other hand, investments upon mortgages of real estate have yielded a handsome income of between seven and eight per cent. annually for a number of years. This has been brought about by making numerous small loans at high rates in distant locations, and more than offsets the small income derived from real estate owned. It is questionable, however, whether such more or less speculative loans in unsettled districts, attended with so much expense and difficulty of supervision, and followed by so much foreclosure, buying in and holding indefinitely in a nearly unproductive condition, can be profitably pursued in the future. It was found necessary by the department to knock off from the item of loans on mortgage, as shown by the company's ledgers, $18,100 for defective titles, and nearly as much more from overdue and accrued interest unsecured by the value of the premises mortgaged.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

In the item of stocks and bonds owned there is included the sum of $362,145 for the value of the company's stock in six irrigating ditch or canal companies of the State of Colorado. These canals have been a source of great expense to the company, and a subject of considerable comment and litigation. The Commissioner has inquired into the matter with care, and, together with Mr. Brooks, proceeded to Colorado to obtain the opinion of experts in such enterprises, and visit the several localities and works. From all the information available, he is of the opinion that the titles of these properties in the present companies cannot be successfully impeached, and that they are fairly worth the conservative value at which they are allowed. An offer has been made recently for the purchase of one of these, and two others are upon a paying basis. One of the remainder will continue a source of expense for some time to come, but is a necessary adjunct of other interests held by the Travelers insurance company in that locality.

The other two must wait until further emigration and the sale of lands and water rights enable the companies to make dividends.

Likewise in said item of bonds and stocks owned is included $186,300 as the value for 1,863 shares of the Hartford Loan and Trust Company of Denver, and $179,200 for 1,792 shares of the Colorado Valley Land Company. Both of these were incorporated under the laws of Colorado at a recent date. Nearly all of the stock of each is held by the Travelers, and their assets consist principally of real estate formerly belonging to the latter, and turned over in purchase of stock. As but little of these stocks has recently been sold to others, no market values are established, and it became necessary to look into the affairs of these corporations, and have an appraisal made of their assets to reach any definite conclusions as to their worth. This was accordingly done, and the Commissioner is of the opinion that these stocks are well worth par, at which figure they are admitted as assets. Aspersions have been made both as to the character and value of these stocks, but upon inquiry they were found to have no reasonable foundation.

Another item allowed as an asset for $75,179.99 is advances to various corporations. A part of this has been repaid to the Travelers since January 1, 1890. The rest is advances made to four of above canal companies and to the Colorado Valley Land Company without security. But as the Travelers own a controlling interest in each of these corporations, and can prevent any further extension of indebtedness unless these advances are secured, and as the Commissioner in valuing the assets of these corporations deducted for these advances, this item should be allowed.

The item of miscellaneous investments, $42,518.91, includes assets not otherwise classified, such as Denver sewer warrants, stock in a Kansas farm, Dakota tax certificates, etc. These assets are not included in the company's general ledgers, as was likewise the case with several other assets amounting to $36,750, and which are included in real estate and stocks owned. The Commissioner found these assets in the possession of the company and belonging to it, and allows them at their value. The same may be said for $208,553.04 of interest, $166,922 of which was overdue, but amply secured. This is also included in the foregoing financial statement.

STATISTICS.

It has been found necessary to add to the liabilities the sum of $72,877, for various items, $35,887 of which it should be stated is for deaths occurring in 1889, the notices of which, however, had not reached the company until 1890, and after its books had been closed for making its annual report. As this examination is for the purpose of ascertaining a previous condition, to wit: on Dec. 31, 1889, and as subsequently acquired information is now available for that purpose, it is proper that such death claims should be charged up. The surplus of the company, as found by this examination, is $894,466.33 more than that claimed by the company in its annual reports to the various insurance departments Dec. 31, 1889.

This arises mainly from the company having deducted in its reports all of the stocks of the canal companies and advances thereto and reduced the real estate to the face of the original mortgages foreclosed.

AGENTS' BALANCES.

A considerable item of agents' balances is disallowed in accordance with department practice. Some of this is composed of delinquent accounts, more or less secured by personal bonds, and one item against a former agent at Denver has been reduced to judgment in favor of the company for $88,763.62. As the Commissioner was unable to discover that the party possessed any assets against which such judgment could be enforced, he disallows the item. The company has been made defendant in an extensive litigation in Colorado. The present condition of this suit is a judgment mainly in favor of the company. As it is not apparent how the situation can be materially altered by the results of an appeal to the injury of the company, the Commissioner is of opinion that this matter does not call for further remark or involve any contingent liability.

In the course of the examination it was found necessary to call the attention of the officers of the company to the illegality of some of its investments. Some of these were promptly changed. The Commissioner has the assurance of said officers that the defect as to the remainder will be removed as soon as the same can be done without loss to the company's interest.

As the laws regarding investments, and the department's duty concerning them, are not without ambiguity, and as some of these statutes are of recent date, and the acts of the company are apparently unintentional, and have entailed no loss upon the policy or stockholders, the Commissioner is disposed to rest upon this assurance for a reasonable time without taking further action.

GENERAL MANAGEMENT.

The policy and risk accounts have been carefully gone over without finding any material inaccuracies either in the company's books or its returns to the department. The mortality among the policy-holders indicates a careful selection of risks. All just claims appear to be promptly paid. Considerable litigation and friction arise in the accident department with regard to claimants. This seems to be unavoidable from the nature of this business and the ignorance of policy-holders as to the exact character of the risk assumed by the company under its contracts. The treatment of policy-holders as to surrender values is fair and considerate, and the absence from the company's literature and practice of that spirit of exaggeration and misrepresentation, which unfortunately so frequently prevails in participating business, is a noticeable feature in its management.

The books and papers are well kept, and afford fair facilities in arriving at information, to which end every opportunity and courtesy was afforded promptly by the officers and employes. A system of periodical visits to the mortgagees is in practice. This and other expedients employed are well calculated to prevent speculation on the part of financial agents.

The Travelers Insurance Company commenced doing an accident business in 1864, and a non-participating life insurance business in 1866. By dint of unusual energy and intelligence, it is now entitled, in point of assets, income, and numbers insured, to the twin honor of being the largest and most successful accident and purely stock life insurance company of the world. Representations, for the purpose of discrediting its annual statements, and aspersing the integrity of its management, have been widely circulated. So far as this department has been able to discover, during an exhaustive inquiry into the affairs of this company, extending over a period of nearly three months, these representations seem to have been inspired by malice, and have not been found to be true.

ORSAMUS R. FYLER,
Insurance Commissioner.

Since the publication of the above report there has been a decision rendered by the Supreme Court of Colorado touching the title to certain properties held by the company. The decision was made use of by interested parties, and heralded over the country as a substantial reversal of the decision of the lower court. The Commissioner presents what he understands to be the condition of the litigation, at present, and the points involved by the recent decision of the Supreme Court of Colorado. It is well known that investments of the Travelers Company in Colorado, representing large amounts, are involved in litigation, which is being carried on by several suits, both for and against the company. In the principal suit against the company, instituted by the parties who negotiated the Colorado securities to the Travelers, the company has obtained a favorable decision in the Circuit Court of the United States against the plaintiffs, by which the plaintiffs are found indebted to the Travelers Company to the amount of about $100,000. This decision was rendered and final decree entered accordingly, on the 12th of May, 1890.

The plaintiffs sought further to protract the suit by filing a supplemental bill, setting up other grounds of complaint against the Travelers, to which bill the company demurred, and on the 26th of February, 1891, the court filed an opinion sustaining the demurrer, so that final judgment stands in favor of the company, as stated.

Other branches of this litigation consist of foreclosure proceedings brought by the Travelers, with other bondholders, against the several land and irrigation enterprises, in the securities of which the Travelers were induced to invest. In these cases final decree was entered in the state courts of Colorado, ordering the sale of the property for the benefit of the creditors, and the bondholders united in the purchase of the property at the foreclosure sale.

Before final decree was entered, the parties who negotiated the bonds in the East, having guaranteed the payment of many of them, petitioned the court to be made parties defendant to the foreclosure proceedings, but the court determined that they had no such interest as would entitle them to participate in the suit. From this decision an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court of the State of Colorado. The petition was based principally upon the ground that construction liens existed and were of record in favor of the Travelers, making an apparent incumbrance upon the property, in addition to the deeds of trust which were given to secure the bonds. It was claimed that the existence of these liens misled bidders at the sale, that the public may have understood from the condition of the records that purchasers of the property would take title subject to the liens, and that had they been canceled of record, a larger sum might have been realized and paid upon the bonds, thus reducing the liability as guarantors of the parties seeking relief by intervention.

The Supreme Court found that the court below erred in refusing to admit the interventors as parties, and remanded the case to the trial courts, where evidence may be heard upon the facts averred.

The question adjudicated is a question of practice, and the effect of the adjudication will be to delay final decree upon the foreclosure proceedings until the courts shall hear the evidence which may be offered by the new parties, and adjust priority between liens and bonds. It is not material to the Travelers how this shall be declared, inasmuch as it is not, and cannot be, denied that the obligations are in default, and that the original proceedings were properly commenced ; and as all the parties are now properly in court, it is difficult to see how the substance of the result already secured can be changed. The parties having a right to redeem the bonds may do so by payment in full with interest, as provided in the obligations themselves ; failing to do which, the property must again be sold. The sale may or may not result in an increase of the purchase price. If more be realized a larger amount will be received to the credit of the bonds.

INSURANCE COMMISSIONER'S REPORT.

Section 331 of the General Statutes provides, among other things, that the Comptroller shall cause to be printed annually sixteen hundred Reports of the Insurance Commissioner. At the date of the passage of the act the number provided was undoubtedly sufficient. The early date at which the report has been published in recent years has materially increased the demand. The editions of the past two years were exhausted long before the demand upon the office had ceased. The report has a commercial value, as evidenced by the receipts of this office from that source during the past year. The Commissioner would respectfully recommend that the number of reports authorized to be printed should be increased from sixteen hundred to two thousand copies.

Respectfully submitted,

ORSAMUS R. FYLER,

Insurance Commissioner.
